A natural way to clenze your body

- Stimulates removal of excess water
- Assists in cleansing process
- Removes toxins

Overview

The more we exercise, the more calories we burn; the more food our cells are going to use in order to grow and function. During this process our cells are rebuilding, consuming larger and larger amounts of nutrients. While initial gains in energy and endurance are easily noticeable, what we don't see are the increased amounts of cellular by-products now floating in our blood. Simply put, the more our cells take in, the more there is to come out (in the form of waste.)

For this reason, Herbal Clenze has been developed to:

- Stimulate the removal of the excess water trapped within our cells.
- Assist in the cleansing process of body systems.
- Remove toxins
- Alleviate irritations of the urinary tract.
- Help to counter inflammation. And has been shown to be:
- A helpful laxative.
- A mild astringent.

Because Herbal Clenze is all natural, it will not pull out or damage essential nutrients or minerals on their way to our cells.
